

What should I take for my Writing Intensive requirement? Is there a Cog Sci WI course?

There is no Cog Sci WI-designated course. This is a CAS requirement, not a major requirement, so you can take any WI-designated course in the college to fulfill it.

How should I choose one?

Many Cog Sci majors take CSE 252 Computers, Internet, and Society for their WI. It both fulfills the college requirement and serves as an elective in the Cognition, Culture, and Meaning track.

If you don't want this one or can't get into it, then if you have a minor or a second major, another useful strategy is to take a course that will count in one of those programs.

But really, you can take any WI-designated course in the college that interests you (and for which you meet prerequisites or other restrictions).

How do I know which courses are WI?

Go into the Banner registration system and use the attribute search feature to search for "writing intensive."